Activity is bustling during all four seasons. Three bodies of water are on the property: a cypress lake holding crappie, a pond stocked with bass and bream and more than two miles of frontage on Palusha Creek offering summertime fun for the whole family. Located at the foot of The Delta, the creek also serves as a water source for the abundant wildlife. Multiple shooting houses and food plots are found throughout. Two sloughs are the perfect habitat for waterfowl. A 7± acre field historically has been planted in sunflowers for exceptional fall dove hunts.
