WELCOME TO MERIGOLD HUNTING CLUB

JUST BEYOND THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER LEVEE IN BOLIVAR COUNTY LIES A PLACE WHERE TRADITION, FAMILY, AND THE GREAT OUTDOORS COME TOGETHER IN PERFECT HARMONY. Merigold Hunting Club, established in 1911, is more than a hunting club; it's a legacy. Known as the "Father of Mississippi Delta Hunting Clubs," Merigold has been a gathering place for generations of families and avid sportsmen alike.

When you pass through the private gate and wind your way toward the main camp, you're met with a sense of timeless belonging. The lodge, nestled in the center of camp, is where it all happens. Members and their families meet here for meals cooked by hired cooks during Thanksgiving, Christmas, and every weekend of rifle season. In the off-season, the lodge remains a favorite hangout for members who enjoy cooking, swapping stories, or relaxing by the fire.

MORE ABOUT MERIGOLD HUNTING CLUB

With 13,000± acres of prime Mississippi River Bottom habitat, Merigold offers trophy-class hunting for whitetail deer and turkey, and during the right conditions, the duck hunting can get serious. The club employs a full-time caretaker and works with a biologist to manage wildlife health and habitat. Whether you prefer to hunt from one of the many established stands or track your route using the club's offline-access app, the land is ideal for both the seasoned hunter and the folks new to the river bottom.

Fishing enthusiasts will love the blue hole, private boat ramps, and access to Lake Beulah and the Mississippi River. There's even a scenic sandbar reachable by vehicle, where families gather in the warmer months for campfires, cookouts, and hanging out on the banks of Old Man River.

Merigold isn't just a hunting club—it's a way of life in the Mississippi Delta. If you're searching for a place that combines unmatched recreation with true community, you've just found it.

Contact Michael Oswald today to learn more and schedule a private showing of Merigold Hunting Club.
